

Unity Church, built by the Ames family in 1875, and designed in the Gothic Revival Style by architect and publisher John Ames Mitchell. It includes an ornate oak frieze including sculptures of twenty-two angels playing music, carved by Johannes Kirchmayer, and two notable stained-glass windows, "Angel of Help," and "Figure of Wisdom," both by John LaFarge. "Figure of Wisdom," completed in 1901, is the largest stained-glass work created by LaFarge.
